Harpur College Writing Requirements

- four C or J courses; or
- three C or J courses plus one W course; or
- two C or J courses plus three W courses

Major Requirements

- A: ONE (1) Anthropological area course focused on the peoples/cultures of a specific world region or area (e.g., Middle East, Oceania/Pacific, Southeast Asia, West Africa, &c) (4 cr.). Choose from: ANTH 251-273, 340-344, 367-370, 374-379.

- B: FIVE (5) Upper-level (300/400) Anthropology courses (20 cr.). To concentrate in a particular subfield, you should take at least three courses from that subfield. ANTH 491 is not allowed; a maximum of 4 credits (total) is allowed of any combination of ANTH 495, 497, and/or 499.

- C: SIX (6) lower-level (100/200) Anthropology courses (24 cr.). Students should take three out of the four foundations courses (ANTH 166 [Sociocultural]; ANTH 114 or 118 [Linguistic]; ANTH 168 [Biological]; ANTH 167 or 169 [Archaeology]); to concentrate in a specific subfield you must take the intro course for that subfield.

- D: TWO (2) elective courses taken at the 300/400 level in Anthropology or other social sciences (8 cr.).

Only courses passed with a the grade C- or better and only one course taken under the Pass/Fail option may count towards major requirements • No more than six courses from any one subfield (sociocultural, biological or linguistic anthropology or archaeology) may count towards major requirements • A maximum of 4 credits total is allowed of any ANTH 497/499 courses • No more than two cross-listed courses are allowed • Completion of this degree requires 56 credits, at least 28 credits of which must be taken in Anthropology at Binghamton University.

Future Planning:

1/ Most semesters some topics courses (280x/380x/480x) will be offered that are designated as “area courses”; see annotations on the special version of the course schedule posted on the Blackboard organization, “Undergraduate Anthropology at BU.”

2/ Social sciences include Economics, Geography, History, Linguistics, Political Science, and Sociology; social science courses in Africana Studies, Asian & Asian-American Studies, Environmental Studies, Latin American & Caribbean Area Studies, and Women’s Studies may also be used.
