

HWS 495

Nutrition & Fitness Internship

HWS 495 is a unique learning experience that gives students the opportunity to apply their academic course work in professional environments. Service learning projects, peer education, research and involvement in the greater Binghamton community are a few of the opportunities the internships offers. Seminar classes are held weekly on topics of nutrition, fitness and the development of professional skills. The internship is available to undergraduate and graduate students and can be taken for 2, 3 or 4 credits. The credits are Health and Wellness Studies internship credits that apply towards graduation and electives for the HWS minor. Interns will be selected through application and interview processes. There are no required prerequisites to apply for the internship; however preference will be given to students with training or previous course work in the field of health, nutrition and fitness.

Internship requirements include:

- Participation in weekly seminar: Mondays 1:10-3:10 PM in the West Gym
- Completion of internship projects, presentations and pre-professional portfolio
- Completion of outreach hours (60 hours-2 credits, 90 hours-3 credits or 120 hours-4 credits).

To apply please submit your completed application to the Health and Wellness Studies office in the West Gym. Applications must be received by Tuesday, November 22, 2016 at 4 pm.
