How do current seniors or former Binghamton University ECE students apply to the Graduate School for a degree in the Electrical and Computer Engineering Department?

This is the link to the Graduate School’s “How to Apply” web page:

https://www.binghamton.edu/grad-school/admissions/apply/index.html

You do not need to submit TOEFL, IELTS or PTE scores. Your BU transcript will come into the system automatically. You will need to submit your GRE exam scores.

After you submit your application and pay the application fee, your application will show in our electronic system. E-mail svankure@binghamton.edu and let me know you are either a current or former student. I will add a note to the electronic screen that says to waive your language scores and put information on the notes screen regarding your previous BU experience.

When the decision has been entered, you will receive an e-mail from the Graduate School to pay your tuition deposit. That is $100 that goes toward your fall tuition.

You will receive an e-mail near the beginning of the semester you applied for that will give you information about our ECE Graduate Orientation. ECE Graduate Orientations are every fall and every spring.

If you are a current student and would like to register for the next semester, the system will look at you as a new student and will not likely allow you to register for graduate courses. You can e-mail the CRNs, course names and numbers and your name and B# to svankure@binghamton.edu and I’ll register you. New students will not be allowed to register without the department’s assistance until the near the beginning of the semester or during an orientation session. If you are a former student, you may need to update your information with Health Services. E-mail me and we’ll find out what needs to be done so you can be registered.
