SUPERIOR EDUCATION. EXCELLENT CAREER OPPORTUNITIES.

Admission at Binghamton University is highly selective. We are smaller than a typical research university, which means you will have the chance to collaborate closely with award-winning faculty and peers. Students learn inside and outside the classroom, with opportunities for “hands-on” internship experiences in many different areas. Our students go on to successful careers and pursue advanced degrees.

Corporate recruiters ranked us 11th among all schools for the quality of our School of Management graduates (Business Week, 2008); our Watson School of Engineering boasts some of the top U.S. faculty in the country; and Forbes recognizes Binghamton as #1 in the northeast U.S. and #4 in the nation for top starting salaries.
