Rediscovering Eric Williams: The Intellectual History of Capitalism and Slavery

March 14, 2014

BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY FINE ARTS, ROOM 258

1:00 p.m. — Session I

William A. Darity (Duke University)
“Eric Williams: From the Dissertation to Capitalism and Slavery”

Colin A. Palmer (Princeton University)
“Eric Williams and the Genesis of the Anti-Federation Movement in Jamaica”

3:00 p.m. — Session II

David B. Ryden (University of Houston-Downtown)
“Eric Williams and His Three Faces of Planter Decline”

Anthony E. Kaye (Pennsylvania State University)
“In the Workshop of Eric Williams: The Economic Aspect of British Abolition and the Politics of Slavery in the United States”

CO-SPONSORED BY
The Office of the Dean, Graduate School; the Office of the Dean, Harpur College; with the departments of Anthropology, History and Sociology

FOR MORE INFORMATION visit the Fernand Braudel Center website at fbc.binghamton.edu

EMAIL
fbcenter@binghamton.edu