John N. Kilmarx
Associate Dean
The Graduate School

Jake is responsible for outreach and recruitment of graduate students; new student orientation; enrolled student services, including registration, academic progress, and degree completion; development of new degree programs; several support programs, including the Clark Fellowships, NSF-AGEP (for underrepresented graduate students in the sciences and Engineering), Graduate Work Study, and the Graduate Tuition Opportunity Program (GTOP); special awards, including Graduate Student Excellence in Research and Teaching, Faculty Excellence in Graduate Student Mentoring, Dissertation Year Fellowships, and Distinguished Dissertations; and alumni development. He also plays an active role in the Graduate Council, including curriculum, budget, academic standards, and grievance committees.

Susan K. Repine
Assistant Dean
The Graduate School

Sue is responsible for supervising graduate admissions, student-funding appointments, tuition scholarships, etc. She manages information systems for the Graduate office, maintains the Graduate School website and is in-charge of statistics, data analysis, and reporting. Sue also represents the Graduate School on the Pegasus/Oracle Student System Development Team.