Business Administration

Major Overview:
The undergraduate business administration curriculum provides students with a strong liberal arts background; a sound foundation in the basic disciplines and functional areas of management; and an awareness of the legal, environmental and societal factors which affect decision making in organizations.

In addition, the undergraduate business administration student has the opportunity to develop additional depth in a particular functional area by electing a concentration in that area.

Research Areas:
To find out more on School of Management research and internship opportunities, view the following websites:

SOM faculty & staff
[https://www.binghamton.edu/som/faculty-research/index.html]

SOM jobs and internships
[https://www.binghamton.edu/som/student-resources/internships.html]

SOM career services
[https://www.binghamton.edu/som/student-resources/career-services.html]

SOM academic advising
[https://www.binghamton.edu/som/undergraduate-programs/academic-advising/index.html]

Student organizations
[https://www.binghamton.edu/som/student-resources/student-organizations.html]
Post-Graduation:
The Binghamton University School of Management takes pride in preparing graduates for successful careers. Our graduates have the personal and professional skills employers expect to find in their future leaders.

Our students find themselves well prepared for positions in the private sector, non-profit organizations, government and various other industries depending on their interests, skill sets and degree concentration.

Courses:

First-year courses to consider:

Courses to consider your first year include the following:

- MGMT 111 (fall) - Introduction to Decision-Making in Management
- CQS 111 (fall) - Computer Tools for Management
- MATH 224/225 (fall and spring) - Calculus
- ECON 160 (fall and spring) - Microeconomics
- ECON 162 (fall and spring) - Macroeconomics
- BLS 111 (fall and spring) - Legal Environment of Management I
- CQS 112 (spring) – Statistics for Management

Click here to access the University Bulletin for an in-depth description of each course. [http://bulletin.binghamton.edu/]

Thank you.

For more information contact School of Management Advising Office:
somadvis@binghamton.edu
(607-777-2316)